“What an incredible day! It's not often you find an activity where special needs families can relax and actually enjoy themselves. We always have to be on defense, worried about the next step. It was just an incredible break for all of us. Will remember forever. Thank you!”

"Evan fit in here, and he felt like he did a great job! To be in place where people are accepting and welcoming of his disability and do more than just tolerate his delays and quirks, this event built his self-esteem and he had so much fun! He learned a lot in the way that he learns best -- hands on."
